Dr. Josie Coverdale Stock Horse Scholarship

A former competitor and member of Stock Horse of Texas, Dr. Josie Coverdale, passed away in February 2016 from a car accident. Dr. Coverdale was an assistant professor in equine sciences at Texas A&M and an active part of the Equine Initiative. She was known for her passion for her career, her students, her selflessness and her character. In her memory, a Stock Horse of Texas scholarship has been established by her friends. The scholarship will be presented to a TAMU student who shows at the Stock Horse World Show and embodies the same hard work, excellence and pleasant demeanor that Josie shared with everyone.

Q&A Prompts:

1. Part of the Aggie moral code is selfless service. Dr. Coverdale was selfless in giving her time and knowledge to her students. Explain in detail an opportunity (or opportunities) in which you were/are able to carry on the tradition of selfless service.

2. In competition, things don't always go our way. Discuss the importance of good sportsmanship in the arena or in the classroom. How has this quality impacted or shaped your life? Feel free to expand with a specific, personal example(s) of good sportsmanship related to equine competition.

3. Hard work is a rare and disappearing trait among many young people, yet it was very evident in Dr. Coverdale's life. Discuss how the team has shaped your work ethic, and why hard work and a good work ethic is important as a team member. Feel free to relate your experience from the team and how you believe this will benefit you beyond graduation.
